Dear Sir

The Committee of the Marlborough College Natural History Society, observing that you have recently been engaged in excavations on the Wansdyke, would be extremely gratified if you could spare the time to deliver a short lecture at one of our meetings on the subject of your work, and the conclusions you have been enabled to form, which appear to indicate matters of much interest. Our society is now of considerable size, numbering over 150 members, and we are anxious to interest them in those memoirs of past ages which exist in their immediate neighbourhood. The actual dates fixed for meetings are May 16th and June 27th, but if you felt disposed to favour us and these dates were inconvenient, it would doubtless be possible to arrange an alteration to meet your views.

I trust you will regard leniently the liberty which I take in making this request; but I thought you might be not unwilling to further the cause of promoting a proper interest in the subject, and therefore ventured to trouble you.

Believe me

Yours faithfully

Edward Meyrick.

Marl: Coll: Nat. Hist. Society.
