My dear Spencer,

I am still without any list of specimens collected by the Expedition, although one of the articles specially provided that such were to be sent in immediately on the return of the party.

I have not heard a word from either Patz or Witt possibly it has escaped their memories that I had anything to do with their going out.

I took a number of your photos to Sir Wm Ingram the proprietor of the Illustrated London news but they have not appeared as yet — I am afraid most of the natives are a little too indistinct to make good pictures

I saw Balfour at the Oxford museum &
he is very much interested and anxious to hear more about the results and so are the Royal Geographical Society, but except the particulars
stated from yourself and Winchekr I don't know much about it
and it makes me feel rather foolish when they ask questions which I am unable to answer

Can you hurry up any of the reports and get them sent on to me

Sincerely yours
W. A. B. O. S.
