My dear Spencer

I have availed myself at once of your very kind permission to send you the first installment of my work, in its form as a second series. But not altogether so as I have in order to send as nearly a complete pamphlet included the latter part of the section on Marriage which still is in its first crude form. Do not however feel bound to puzzle over it because I have scrubbed it. I may add that I have a good deal yet to put in in places but which I have not yet had time to ~~put~~ ~~fit~~ ~~into~~ shape. Of course the Dyeri part will have to be added but you have seen it in its present shape.

You can if you like to show me with them made any remarks (say) in the back of the pages facing the matter in question. I shall value them, indeed they are to me invaluable <sup>21</sup> as bringing things into view which I have overlooked. I find that we may have something in need of revision which we do not see it!

My wife will take the papers over tomorrow as she writes nice two spencers and penmanship I send them in a portfolio of mine. It may not be convenient for you then when you have done with them to leave the portfolio at the Public Library for me, or when my wife is driving & holds by she can call and get it which would save you the trouble of carrying it into town?

Yours faithfully
Arthur
