My dear Spencer

Today's mail brought Cheque for £18 from Byrne for horses to sold to Hudson. I have sent it on to our account at the Union Bank (oh is not yet sent) I have drawn Cheque in your favor thus saving exchange or m.o. charges. By same post I am sending damaged Chimurilga skin I think some of your handy men at the Museum will be able to put in good order provided you have the necessary wax. When I left to go North this Chimurilga was in first rate order but the informant was not at it then most of The bones are detached. I have still two baskets in front table order one all of bones & the other mixed bone & some seeds. I am keeping them under glass. Today I have spent odd moments at the typewriter: it is first rate: every line of it brightly written & fast enough of odd matter remaining through it to make the reader anxious to buy the first book. It looks like expanding into a very pretty volume.

I can find nothing in my notes as to what the Naviaminga women think of the noise made by the Bullroarer. So I communicated fully with Field by this & asked him to get information from Zulu Hocking he replies "Women believe that the noise is made by ^{a spirit called} Mude mudee (probably Murtu Murtu) who haunts

The Corvosa grounds is shaped like a large block with small arms legs & eyes, it is an invention of the old natives to explain the "monsters" - Cleanly

This is the local equivalent of Zamangita. I told him to explain to J.C. that as far as I wanted the information I think it is debatable and not to get into

Bygones says Country looks worse than he has ever known it with

Moore asking from the Alais says it will go hard with the birds & the Band of rain does not fall

Shady Mr is still a sheet ablatone - to Changa looks like a boom from Promises it a very valuable feed & admits Alais found secure interests If you have £50 to spare

That it would be worth your while getting Moore secure interest in some good local property with a view to future flotation, he has offered to give me an interest in properties recommended by Brown but when asked by Story -

E. J. Zamangem presents at the same lecture it will impress still in Charles Brown only I think I shall have to extend a promise of something of an end of him. According to today papers you see some too hopelessly for Tomorrow says that Zamangem is to be some in at all events on the 17th

Will think you £2.10 at Hayes purchase met needs

Means the Sleante. Up to my neck in bond set late to go fact at Karamakha

Yes there
