My dear Spencer

I am more than delighted to hear that Dodo had read Isaac Carnaby & I shall now send her another book - without making enquiry I had never heard of the book until I dropped across it a few weeks ago & it struck me as being a remarkably clever production. I can quite understand the Author never again reaching the same standard she put her all into it. Many thanks for Dodo's very interesting letter. I enjoyed it immensely & am returning it to you herewith. I feel sure that the reconstructions theory will be found amongst those with maternal descent it only wants looking for in the proper way. There will be no difficulty in getting at the Herosplenne & I think the best place to tackle them would be from the Peak Station to the ~~end~~ Eastward of which there must be many members of the tribe. Perhaps the manager there is the old friend of mine a fine fellow and English gentleman who has his Ancient land to Edward the Emperor, the is of the old English family of Hastings

- We could depend upon his assistance & as he has always been good to the Natives he could put us in touch with them. It would perhaps be better if we could get at them in the vicinity of Gama Coast they are the Sultan a few miles from Mollom Creek which is a more central position. Therefore the better would not be likely to ~~be~~ ^{be} have them ~~delight~~ in contact with the ~~Arabs~~ The only objection to this place is that the blacks have been more in touch with the whites. The railway line runs here in the South. The Lower Luvuvu we could get at Todmorden 70 miles from Port Adelaide Breadwin (late Parby) Station, if we confine ourselves to Subshanna Riverbank & a few miles line of enquiry there no doubt we could do a great deal in three months or less less. What we should do before starting is to prepare a programme & stick to it. Reading Day has little has made me very keen again and I would give much to see old Lang in the Anthropologist field. The Post is an open was say an immense find it really would not be worth while going there unless we could do it at least in months to it. If we miss fortnightly in sailing a locality to visit in no night or an immense amount of work in that time the thing would be to get on to an established but fair station on ships. The Natives have been fairly busy these months to some such station (order in N.A. - I don't know what you say about N.A. & when the time comes I will be sure to write you. If I could only depend upon getting away from here in a couple of years I should be satisfied.

Poor Kingston! Hellas & a hell in a China shop! Hellas because he has the courage to go straight ahead doing what he believes to be right.
But in a China shop because he has courage if our abundant business men to respect or at any rate comply with the law. That is always a useful quality & one that means to its possessor an easy passage through life but is often the mark of the ready shuffler & is rarely found associated with a candid & honest honesty. Such do I have often heard you extol. To a man who can never say no, who desires to be all things to all men his friends speak of him as "full of tact". That is Deakin's great characteristic (Mind I believe him a thoroughly good man) & where has it led him? He is never quite candid, he practices "the soft answer that turneth away wrath" & the consequence is that no one knows where he is, no one takes him quite seriously as a politician, he is all words, soft words, tactful words, & though he is perhaps the most cultured & intellectual force in the Cabinet he merely forms its tail. If he had less tact & more grip he would lead Australia today.

Tact is a useful even an attractive quality but I press ten thousand times the blunt-transparent honesty of Charles Cameron & Long may he wave -

On the whole I agree with you about the Public Service & its relation to the about I have been dead against the action of the ~~Stoubers~~. But I certainly would be no party to making a State a criminal matter. The proposed Bill would have been a disgrace to our Statutes a more stringent or retrograde measure could not have emanated from a Russian Council of State let alone a Democratic form of Govt. It would have placed in the hands of Govt a more dangerous power & it would mean practical enslavement for the Public Servants. The fault was not all on the side of the men in the late State they had some measure of provocation they were subjected to a galling system of fine prices they were certainly not fairly dealt with as instance the withholding without Parliament's authority of their incomes which I see by yesterdays paper have now been paid to them. Beasts blustering & bullying method were calculated to goad any self respecting body of men to meeting though this perhaps does not excuse the men it mitigates their offence for which after all they will be the principal sufferers. I can quite understand perfectly

According to a recent author, 11 millions of the English people are in a chronic state of semi starvation. As for the state increasing wages I don't for one moment believe that the British manufacturers will be benefited by C's proposals would increase the wages of the workers It is not doubt that many of the millions are inefficiently fed at the present price of food under present conditions; The food stuffs the Colonies pour into England is a mere flea bite compared with that that goes from America & even from Russian Siberia so food must go up - What do you think of recent Racial Statistics?

We are living in an age of Racial Suicide & the one country in the world that has not housed the vipers in its bosom is Ireland. Ireland will keep the Empire's flag aloft when there are no longer Englishmen to man the ships; for this reason if for no other you English should bend her to your with the strongest links of affection thought by Tardy justice - instead of the steel treads of Cruelty injustice & oppression which have held us together for the last ~~one~~ Centuries.

I'll add a line or ^{two} brought the mail might bring something from you.

Evening I rather thought there would be a line from you by today's mail & I was not disappointed the proposal to go north on a flying trip came as a great surprise to me & I need hardly tell you that "Bardie" is willing. In view of Lang's statements it would be nothing short of a crime to ~~do~~ ^{leave} the work undone, & publish our books without settling the point one way or the other, that is shall find Intellektuella & Prinzipialisten in some form or other. I feel certain & if I am in error I shall never venture an opinion on our Antrop problem again. The way the movement may in which you talk of spending £100 but a cold shiver down my back the trip can be done for £30 or at the very outside £35 especially if as I should

The London Railway means you will find us over the Railways. The trip cannot be done in less than 20 days to ~~there~~ we should go to Narva & there across to the Peab. Station was crossed by Redman. They found Grand Kempt. The train from Adelsö for ~~the~~ by ~~the~~ you can leave ~~the~~ a fortnight earlier that you state we should leave to leave Adelsö on the 30th August reach the Peab. for Narva sailing on the 5th & return to Adelsö by the train leaving Adelsö on the 20th reaching Adelsö on the 22nd. This would give us time alone for inquiries into the Peab. & if you & I cannot find out much of our use that we want to know in the time we have to be done with that distinguished friend Mr. Matthews. I have written off to Kempt & Wright ~~and~~ the most kind conclusions on ~~the~~ - making it that we get together a few of the the men from the Camp somewhere for the year or so near to the head of the which is located about 17 miles East of Narva. Also if he can arrange to meet in & money as, with our belongings, to the Chion camp I find us in need of Necessary provisions as we are working with the Men. I told him that we could if course pay all expenses. He is a good chap & I shall be greatly surprised if he does not show every disposition to help us. For reasons which I shall explain when we meet I would visit me ^{much} better if you could get away in time to leave Adelsö on July 20th (train for Adelsö) now leave Monday next 7 (Friday) in which case we should return by train leaving Adelsö on August 6th. I do not think there will be any fuss about my leave I am entitled to 18 days exclusive of Sundays & holidays there are ^{two or three} days due to me for overtime work.

I told you that you entertained me to supper you forgive me he is a tricky old chap & I am afraid that he rather wants my things although he is very careful not to say so. Perhaps if you write him a line mentioning your proposal & saying that you hoped that he would be able under the circumstances to send him a few notes I might facilitate matters in fact if you don't mind. I think

Think you had better do so. All that we shall require to take from Adelaide is our snags a few lbs of cheap tobacco now procurable at 3/- per lb & a small hamper of tinned meat for emergencies. When you have come to a final decision let me know at once Kemp's reply should reach me by wire about the end of next week perhaps earlier if he happens to come to Narriana for the winter kindly. I shall be glad to have a look through Lang's work & will return it by post as soon as I have read it. We shall have to take with us from here a copy of the old book some Churunga & perhaps one or two sacred things to show the old man. The idea of being again with you out back quite me with pleasurable thrills. I am longing to see you if only to get a little chattering about I asked Kemp to explain to the Maggus the nature of our mission of our work of which they already have an inkling I think one particular old man an old friend of mine whom I hope the Lord will render unto our hands. Now I must close

I am afraid I have affected you a bit greater length than I have any right to do but never mind
I remain
Yours ever
H. G.

My estimate of the cost is I estimate a very liberal one
