My dear Spencer

The little Wife returned today looking splendid after her holiday in the South East. She is now quite reconciled to the trip since I have assured her that we don't intend living with making a personal part in the economies of the really odd blacks - This from Mr Kennedy today "Expedition needs Doctor you have granted any chance? Shantho" to which I replied "Thanks old man we want to live through it - Well consider but can give you no hope Shantho" Expect a line from you soon
