

Emily's letter

did amuse me:

I received instructions

not to answer till

I was told so

anxiously awaiting such orders.

Coll. Exon.

June 7. 82.

(21)

Dear Howard

In writing to you
thus late again I feel that it is filling up my cups of wickedness for this term.
In the first place, can
you come & stay with us
on Friday of next week: if you can come then we can

enjoy some of the long June evenings in our garden which though far from being as beautiful as the edge is yet a very jolly place in wh. to play Tennis. As you know I must read hard during the day for "London" but would manage to have the evenings free. We are very quiet at home but I know you won't mind this.

I cannot say exactly when very Marion to come & stay with you as I hear from home she is going to do: I don't to have you sisters at our place soon though I fear when they come if it be before my London Exam. that I myself shall be too busy to have much time

As you know W.W. spent part of last week-end with me + I think liked Oxford. My "wife" is on Friday morning: may the Fates + Dons deal kindly with your sincere friend
W.B.S.

12
kind course me:
Sunday's letter
I received instruction and to answer till
I was told even certainly
such orders.
Coll. Exam.
June 7. 82.

Dear Howard

In writing to you
thus late again I feel that it is piling up my cups
of wickedness for this term.

In the first place can
you come + stay with us
on Friday of next week: if
you can come then we can