

April 21. 83.

Such things from one point of view & that by no means the highest: their remarks would be simply jarring.

Thank you for sending me word about Sidgwick's book on Ethics: I have bought & am now reading & enjoying it much. I am also endeavouring to wade through Bain. What with this work, Geology, Comp. Anat. & an Oxford Exam. this from my hands are quite full enough but sometimes it is quite a relief to have a morning lot of work to do & I feel it to be so now.

Whenever we are going to give a conference this term in the Eight's week that is the Science Club is being ~~put~~ see. & Treas.
joined in one ^a gives me plenty of work.

As to coming up to Oxford I shall be very glad to see you if you can only manage to do so :
please consider this as an invitation

38
case you need to make use of me : I fancy I can easily put you up for a night in case I need & shall be only too glad to do so if you can stay.

I hope your Mother is well & not suffering from the ill effects of house-painting. I ought to write to Emily but really can't just now : please give her my compliments.

May this turn out as we earnestly hope it may.
