Dear Howard

I quite forgave about writing to you yesterday after being at a lecture from 5-6 when your note came.

I am very sorry indeed to hear the sad news about Mr.
Lee. It will indeed be a blow to poor Frank, as I don't quite know what he will do.
It seems very sudden indeed as I did not even know that he You are the shadow: to be sure in some we differ, but I think breathing the same air, they would all come out with a thorough trickery. Would there still be this poor & Emily's note, this Concert? The allude, in concert? And we were possible to offer you a loaf, but unfortunately, I could do that as one was so down.

As to Saturday I shall very glad to see you + wish that we could do. I know I will wear will be sure I come + I will wait but this question was made far more prominent than it had any right to be since the money was simply voted to build new physiological schools with. Prof. Budge Sanderson meeting has now will leave the licence giving him power to vivisect before students. He can only do it in his own private investigations + then only under anesthetics. What justification to so-called vivisection arises from people and understanding the difference between the English & the continental method: doubtless some scientists would not be sorry to adopt the latter in England but then they cannot. I hope never will be able to.

will you please remember much the meeting tomorrow night? if you do there.
