June 21. 85.

Dear Howard,

It must I fear be some considerable period since last I wrote to you but lately my visiting has been very much interfered with largely by the "schools" here. I think I reason my having had to run backward and forward to town during the last few days.

We had some little time ago a very valuable anthropological collection given to the varsity.
during the last week or

The new labels for Kela

Ras have supplemen ted the second

I have been with Kela.

I have seen a good sized collection-

Said one of the collectors.

The labelling is considerable amount.

The work has to be done. The Government helps us enormously, but we cannot trust them to do the labelling + so learn to see it.

having done.

We three began in the morning 7.30 till 5.30 with only a short break for lunch. However, it is rather interesting if tiring work. Tyler himself is.

I have been much surprised however to find that though I of course the best anthropologist in England + a very nice man indeed + I have been much more concerned than ever Tyler. in fact

Macleay is a very remarkable man + when brought at all closely into contact with him. You soon feel that he is no ordinary man. I think he has been almost everywhere. This alone gives a man considerable power; I only he feels his eyes open. He was a favourite of Darwin's. Of course very much the latter's junior. Still everybody else who ever came near his has the greatest reverence for his master.

Nonsense, however, I think, too narrow in some way. He thinks science to be the training...
June 21. 85

for everything for business no profession even for politics.

One evening we had a long talk on this subject - we agreed to differ. It is very difficult to get to know much of him as he is very reserved in a way very shy.

Do you see that Marshall has got his F.R.S. I am very glad. Also Hartog has just stepped into a nice fellow. Shute in Ireland 1 £400 per annum! Only two short the one thing, the only thing which will make their return to power safe. Let us pray that our enemies may succeed in forming a cabinet.
Our enemies may succeed in forming a cabinet. At the same time I am more convinced than ever that the late government have a hundred without Gladstone's huge power as a Rhetorician would very ago have gone to the dogs.

But I am there is little doubt that Parnell will rule the next
as you say Parliament.

Last Sunday I was obliged to be up in town and feeling very fagged" till Sat. evening took train to Darting and then walked out into Surrey some few miles to a lovely little village - Ockley - near Leith Hill where I spent the Sunday. It was very hot + save during the evening I simply wandered lazily + quite alone under the trees. Monday morning I left at 4 a.m. Read a most delightful walk back to Dorking. All week I have been hard at it in From morning down here once or twice. This week Marin + S. are coming up here so I shall stay in Oxford but after that again shall help. back and forwards for some little time next likely. Please wish success in her game. From me your mother is getting on well.