Dear General Pitt-Rivers,

Green has never done any of the repairs on the estate in his life nothing but the new Buildings these of course you have always condoned or ordered, I cannot for one moment think that he can be held responsible in any way whatever for the action of the man named Abby, it seems to me it is a matter entirely for the Architects who prepared the plan as practical Men can of course tell whether £545 or £645 is a fair price for the Building.

I have an offer for the Austin Farm & likewise one of the other Farms I had hoped to have had offers for the other by this time but I am now to meet Mr. Shepard at Dorchester to-morrow morning to see if we can arrange like a piece upon terms for the large Farm there to which I think we can & if so?

This will at my rate enable me to lay a before you offers for all Farms at present unoccupied to which I will do on Thursday morning as early as I can get there, I shall not get back at the earliest from Dorchester until 4 o'clock to-morrow & it will be too late then to go to Amherst.
