Gun & Rifle Manufacturer, 151, New Bond Street,
London, W.

Jan'y 30th 1883

Genl Pitt-Rivers,

Sir,

I regret that you decline to pay the expenses of my Manager altho' your Solicitor said they would be met; If the Gun had been lost I should have been at no expense, as my claim would have been paid by the Py Co

to enable me to supply you with another Gun, I had no interest in bringing the "thief to justice", and certainly would not have had my Managers time wasted if I had known you would have acted in such an unjust way.
I am surprised that your Solicitor should have said what he did about the expenses if you had instructed him in the matter,

Yours obediently
Chas. Lancaster
