

run to St. Just (7 miles), from Penzance. Should you be going down again to inspect your excavations at Camborne I thought perhaps you might be able to go on to St. Just - Forgive me a stranger troubling you -

Yours sincerely
Bernard Gibson

I should be glad to call on you (say Friday morning next at 11 AM) & describe to you what I saw -

Dear Genl. Pitt-Rivers
I met

Sir John Lubbock a few weeks ago at Mr. E. North Buseton's, and he told me you would be interested to learn of a very perfect British burying place near Cape Cornwall  $\frac{1}{2}$ a mile from St. Just.
