Dear Sir,

Let me thank you very much for the pamphlet which I found on my table on my return here last night. I once had the pleasure of seeing your museum at Farnham + was extremely struck with it.

I have been excavating on the Roman Wall, digging sections in the Vallum and opening part of a Roman camp. The results, so far, are not unsatisfactory but they are mostly details. We are having a coloured representation made of one section in the Vallum which contained some markedly coloured clay, - red, whiteish, + blue - . When it is ready, I should like to send you a copy & have your opinion on it, if I may.

Yours very truly

F. Haverfield.
