To Gen Pitt-Rivers.

Dear Sir,

On my return to London after a prolonged absence in the United States, Canada, & Italy, I find among other correspondence & material for our Handbooks, your letter of Aug. 17, 1891. During my absence, the new edition of St. Britain was entrusted to my assistants; and hence the mistake about Rushmore in the third edition (1894), you will find the mistake rectified; but I regret that more extended use has not been made of your notes on the subject, for I certainly should have made the reference a little fuller, had I been at home.

Yours very truly

James F. Muirhead
