

In the summer he is at Goffs Hill, Crawley.

You no doubt heard from Gurson some details about Hamstead. He was up twice.

I wish you could find us a President at the Anthropological I really don't know who we can have next year.

Yours very truly

Dear General Pitt Rivers

Many thanks for your friendly encouragement about the Hamstead barrow. You will have seen the Times account, which is practically complete though I dug two days longer and made certain one or two points which then were problematical - i.e. that the real ditch was inside the apparent (probably modern) one, and that the additional earth put on a century or two age was confined to the E side, thus throwing out the true centre.

As to High Down, I had no intentions about the camp - but Henry is now very keen on the matter & would I have no doubt be glad to see the thing thoroughly done. The camp is not only so especially in your line, but also yours by a prior claim to mine, that I should decidedly prefer your doing it in preference to myself - and if possible I should be glad of the opportunity of being present, to help if I can, but at any rate to see your methods in practice.

I do not know if you have met Henry, but he is a capital good natured fellow & would be pleased if you suggested your plan for next year when we shall finish up the cemetery - I shall see him tomorrow & will mention the matter to him - His address is at present
