Dear General Pitt Rivers,

Mr Medlicott is sending you a box containing fragments of pottery found at Potterne in an arable field. We dug short tranches & holes in several places & found quantities of broken animal bones & pottery. A trace of mortar & nothing else else - except a fragment of a further Rubber. - Mr's J. J. J.

Wrote of a Romano British Village that I could learn than any bronze, or iron or stone objects or coins have ever been found - ~~that fragments~~ of ^{Romans} pottery are scattered all over the field.

I imagine all the pottery is Romano British isn't it? that one of it I had above might have found a British.

I should be grateful if you could kindly return it to me at your convenience with any notes on its character that occur on - there seem to be no specimens of that polished hand made ware (which you told me you had not found at Rushmore) which has turned up at Oldbury and Cold Kitchen.

I am
Yours faithfully
Ed. H. G. Adlard.
