

Garnett.

BRITISH MUSEUM,

LONDON: W.C.

Dec. 8. 1894.

Dear General Pitt-Rivers,

The copy of the third volume of your work
which you kindly presented to the Museum
seems to have gone to the Department of British Antiquities,
which possesses one.
In this case the letter of acknowledgment would probably be signed by

Sir A. W. Franks. If, however, it is signed by me, the Department of Printed Books must have received one which I cannot see trace. If signed by or on behalf of the Principal Librarian, he must have sent the copy to Sir A. W.
Franks's department.
In any case, I should be thankful for another

copy, provided, of course, that this did not spoil
a set.

Believe me

Yours very truly,

D. Garnett.

Keeper of Printed Books.

General Pitt-Rivers.
