

214. Piccadilly,
London, w^{est} 23 July 1883

Sir

After careful consideration, and taking into account the cost of the binding ^(about 9s) per volume and of advertising and also that we are to account for the copies sold at half the publishing price, we do not think that 16s will be too high a price at which to issue your work on Ancient Locks and Keys.

Yours very faithfully
Chas. Townsend

St. Genl. Pitt-Rivers.
