

Sept. 2/89. (L127)

Manor House,
Haslemere.

My dear Pitt Rivers
The account of your recent excavations at Winklesbury reminds me that I meant to write last week to you about seven or eight shells (empty, I believe & trust) that on making some alterations behind
Number 7 Chesham St.

I found in the back yard.

They look like the drawings of Sebastopol, and as perhaps they you might take them as pillars heads or something of that sort, I have had them piled and

placed, where they can easily be got at -

You seem to have been most successful in finding out what the inhabitants of Dorsetshire were about 2000 years ago -

Believe me

Yours truly

William F. Symonds
