Dear Sir

I received a letter from Mr. Creech this morning informing me, in reply to my letter of the 7th inst, that you were kindly willing to allow the parishes of Malcombe Horsey and Cheselbourne to be united under the same Clergyman, thus giving me the advantage of both livings.

I beg to tender my very grateful thanks for your kindness.

I do not for a moment doubt that the Bishop will be willing to grant the necessary legal dispensation.

This kindness which I am receiving from you; this second appointment - this time to an additional living - will enable me to dispense with many chilling economies, which I have recently been obliged to observe and practise; - and I shall always be deeply conscious of my added debt of gratitude for your kindness.

To my utmost ability I shall endeavour, in every respect in which I may be able, to serve the interests of the village and parishioners of Chesebourn, equally with those of Melcombe Horsey; and shall endeavour, likewise, in every detail, loyally
