

I can only imagine
it must be an error on Creech's part
thinking it would be valued with the other pictures. He refers to a letter written in 192 - in which he
mentions it in connection with the
other pictures - but we took no notice of

Dear General Pitt. Rivers
we were a good deal astonished this morning to hear from Creech that he expected
us to have the water
appliances we put in
here when we came
valued like the other pictures. As

You will remember
three years ago when
we took this house
you promised me
turned out at the end of our lease
you would take the

Cistern see... off our hands at cost price
and it was on this understanding that
we put it up and
took the house - as
without it it would have been uninhabitable
and we should not have incurred this
great expense on
any other terms -

This ^{at the time} as we had
your distinct
promise that we should be given its full value if we were turned out
at the end of 3 years.

The valuers are coming to-morrow. &
we have told Creech that it will be unnecessary to
value the cistern.

Yours sincerely

Dear Mrs Mansel

I have not the faintest recollection about the boiler except that I do remember it was warranted not to last more than 3 years. That makes me so astonished that it should be still in existence. I thought I had put up the hot water expressly ^{to keep you warm} for you.
but I shall not go near Dinton until the boiler is out of the way ~~on~~ you with mine me boiled in it & there will be nothing but boiled general with table for a long time, which with be a great saving. but I shall tell you, & leave

are to be charged for it by the pound - & I can see you pass when the bill comes in. & my ghost
will nudge your elbow.
& make you total it too
much
What extraordinary

Another it is for the end of September Ruthless is an awful heavy to get in
