My dear Father -

I have told you to send you the drawings together with his tender. It is generally customary for Builders to send in their tenders together, as it would be unfair to show one builders tender to another before the other man has sent his in as he might in order to get your custom cut his down to a little less & then try and scamp his the work afterwards to make up. Your affect^{ly} son
