

"Philosophy of Politics."
It is a splendid treasure. Do read it you will be delighted as I am. I cannot tell myself from it.

I remain
your most sincerely
Wm. - P. - D.

Ans

L1634

WHATCOMBE, BLANDFORD.
—AND TELEGRAPH—

August 27. 1896

My dear General Pitt Rivers

Although I regret
we shall not have the pleasure of seeing you here I am delighted to know that we may meet at the Long-Barnes on Rook to Down. I hope Monday next. The 24th may suit you and at 12 o'clock I will be there to meet you
It is about 2 miles from Blayford on the Wootton road. We can have a

another day for October 2nd when I hope our both Rivers may be ordered to accompany you when leave with us.

We are quite in the hands of the farmer who upon a very small capital and all to occupy on
of the most suitable positions possible. It is independent of the Government (and not by their order) and they are to a great social one. Melbourne Inn Farm. At £1200.

When I first came into the property now at £600. The tenant had the readiness to work for another individual of £150. which I refused to do by the last about he is a deponent. I should have thought on a great part of Melbourne Park is in the Vale then can be no reason for fall such as you speak of. The present thought make me trouble!
I am extremely glad you are better. I am now reading The Duke of Angles