

Ans'd.
Oct. 29/96.

Boyd Dawkins.

L 1673

Woodhurst

Fallowfield

Manchester

23 Oct. 1896

Dear General Pitt-Rivers,

Just a few lines to call you notice to the beautiful wooden handles of sickles, chisels, hatchets, and bill-hooks found recently in one exploration of the Lake

Village at Glastonbury.
They are perfect, and give a high idea of the carpentry of the prehistoric iron age. Can you tell me the best way of preserving them without shrinkage?

I enclose a sketch written while I was in your country for a couple of days near Blandford. I was astonished at the strength and substance of Hameldon and Hord Camps.

I hope that you are well - and hope for you not being written much lately!

that you are publishing another of those revenues which make the archaeologist wind up his debt. Miss Fendall's questions for your time & Mr. Bond's questions for the Pitt Rivers & Mr. Bond's questions