Dear Sir

I have already had several applications for the hoe & naturally am somewhat in doubt as to its value - I am not very anxious to part with it at present, as I have only had it a few days. & as I have had it such a short time, I should not be inclined to part with it unless I had a good offer. It is perfectly genuine in every way & I am advised that it is worth at least fifty guineas - as no such thing is likely to be found again - it would not be safe to send but ought to be taken by hand of course if the price is prohibitive, I am always open
