My dear General

I have just found a letter of yours which reminds me that I ought to have written to you long ago - but I am too busy for words I went to see Purdon Clarke and other people at South Remington about the New Zealand front.

and spoke to them several times - They were very sympathetic and Purdon Clarke wished you to write a letter officially to him making the request that you might have the prospect of a perpetual loan. as I am afraid they might have some difficulty in an actual gift. - ~~Just~~ Mr. Coakley located in your place. while in London it is here to be destroyed by the number 20.

I think I told you we called on your son the Grenadier but they were out of town and had let their house - Can you let me know what his present address is?

I hope very much you are keeping better -
With our kind regards
