Dear General Pitt-Rivers,

The "agricultural" pig is for the museum at Farnham, if you will accept it. I can give no further particulars than that I acquired it for a few pence from a country woman.

I did not hear a very good account of you from a gentleman [W. Selin Kaur] who was in here the other day, but I hope by now you are better.

We are going ahead here.

A new wing is to be built westward, of two floors each 54 ft by 23 ft, and a new house adjoining, for the Cemetery.

Yours truly

Irada V. James
