Dear Sir,

Since I had the pleasure of meeting you a few days since at Iwerne at your excavations it has occurred to me I have some old oak suitable for a hand rail or something of such kind and thought you may be fitting up something where it would work in. It was originally the fence round the table in the chancel of an old church and I have had preserved for its antiquity if I used for a stair case it would require being cut but if use level it would work in well. I should suppose it would be about 25 ft long the top rail is about 4 in x 6 in and chased the uprights are turned and about 3 1/2 square at the base and top. I bought it at a sale to save it from the fire and have hoped to hear of some person fitting up a place where it could be worked in. my apology for troubling you your attention must be the motive to which I allude.

Allow me to be

Yours faithfully
John. C. Foot
