BRITISH MUSEUM,

LONDON: W.C.

Dear General

I have just bought some Benin heads &
other things of bronze - & among them are two I can spare - one being a duplicate - I am keeping for these latter myself as I had to take the lot - I am paying £20 each for them - which of course I think they are worth.

Do you care for them? If so I will send them -

The enclosed rough sketches give you a very fair idea of their appearance - The smaller one is the better as a work of art - but the other

is distinctly curious.

Yours very truly
Charles H. Read
