

L204

74 Patterney Street
Bath

January 19. 1890

My very dear General

How very kind of you to be so interested in me & to be so interested in the claims of the report of my death - We must be prepared however for such an outbreak as often do the flickering candle in some extinguished - We are concerned to know that you have had another attack of the same & have been confined to bed with asthma & bronchitis, but as you have such a wonderful constitution which enables you to resist the surroundings of the Diabets & with the mild

Whether we are having the well soon recover your strength. I am so sorry that Captain Glyn has been so sick & unwilling to write to you about the Lamer tree & blaming you and setting himself up as your censor. You have been encountered by the perhaps a parson, & dimble & now a layman has commenced. It is sad you are wounded in your illness.
Eddie has had a very close shave but I hope he is now safe even the Rubicon. He had a congregation of the boys.
I shall be here - in another fortnight but hope to be able to see you & cheer you up

The first opportunity.
There is a most labyrinthous place every one walks with a face as long as a coffin happy. We know none of them. Praying and hoping that you may soon be restored Believe me
Yours affectionately
A. Brownell - Maydell