Dear General/

My partner

Mr Ernest Quilman has recently been on

knock down in the parish of Winton lower

near Keytesley - and on some recently surveyed land where a British

Wallow had visited he found much remains of Pictish British Sarcophagi (one found) and the substance which is enclosed with this.

Do you know of any similar? If so what is it he found several pieces of varying thickness and quality -

Please forgive my trouble

You who know, everything in this matter!

I wish you are well
be an hour or two season of January
with wheat at 37/
You master the market
is bright!

I am
Yours
Wm. T. Swanwick
