CASTLE BARBICAN, PLYMPTON.

10th April 1890.

My dear Sir,

You were good enough to present me, some years ago, with the first volume of your most valuable work "Excavations in Cranborne Chase," and I'm added to that kindness by sending me the two succeeding volumes. I have just noticed that you have printed a fourth volume, and I am trespassing upon your generosity in asking for a copy to complete my set.

CASTLE BARRACK

WATERLOO

If you can so favour me,
I shall be greatly obliged.

Believe me,
faithfully & obediently Yours,

W. R. R. R.

General Pitt-Rivers.
