

I find off my Anniversaries Field Club Address as usually which gave me some trouble to put together and took me notice of the important the important gave me to emphasize your delivery of parcels like myself months in Egypt. I hope to be able the week after next to prepare myself as now still since allowed me when I saw her at dawn. for a night & enjoy what I delight in so much a preparation & attend with you and with our united very kind regards &c.

I remain

Yours affectionately

H. Mansel-Pleydell

Ans. 12/98.
Man

L2085

WHATCOMBE, BLANDFORD.
—AND TELEGRAPH—

May 11. 1871

My dear & kind General

I have small sent this moment 6.30 p.m.

reply to your last kind letter in the Melrose presentation

I wish you could view an Essay in our true light. You would find that their merits is much appreciated by the people. In the even for their heart's sake the sacred rights you to the scene. We are all always have seen in the night

With regard to the (Crested Mountain) I mean prevented the Clergy (a young Curate) from having them in Hampton or any other village of mine. on the contrary I had them at Millbourne as well as Hampton. They died a natural death on our visit to my Village was the only one all round for my influence to which they were asked to play a second time so dark & stupid were they. In the winter the Hampton people complained that the Reading-room was invaded by them & that they objected to it. There is only one room & the people did not like to have their evening disturbed by such buffoonery. The dinner was in free-fight & scrim on eye at the Free Public House which they invaded quite late at night after an exhibition of the neighbouring villages of Afford St. The public house was open that night as the door had had friends. The disturbance lasted until 1 a.m. when they were ejected. I am told that disgraceful scene took place on Saturday night & Sunday morning. Voila! how a story increases as it rolls on from one mouth to another. No one there to answer my question than I do.

I have built a Reading-room in my village promote a Kick up Cricket & Football Club & subscribe liberally to them & a several other ways help them - this amount