Dear Sir

Your name having been mentioned to me as a collector of old stone implements, I take the liberty of writing to you with regard to a collection which I have made in this neighbourhood of some 200 specimens which - finding it take up more & more room - I have thought of selling.

The majority are palaeolithic & the whole includes some nice specimens, and I think unique or nearly so. I could give full information should the matter be of interest to you. In case it is not &
I am writing under a misapprehension I must apologize for thus wasting your time. I enclose my card & remain

Yours very truly

Edmund Selous

Dear Sir,

In reply to your letter of the 30th ult., it is of course difficult for me to say anything about the flints without seeing them; but if you would like to send them on approval, that is frequently done by collectors and others, and no difficulty has ever arisen as yet. It would be desirable that you should state the price and ticket each object with the locality and if possible, especially the palæolithic flints, the deposits in which it is found. Without the locality and some indication of the position, palæolithic implements are of course valueless. My Station is Tisbury, as stated above, and as I am 10 miles from it, and have to send in for everything, it is necessary to know when things are sent off.

Yours truly,

A, Pitt Rivers.
