WHATCOMBE,
BLANDFORD,
—AND TELEGRAPH—

September 18. 1894

My dear & kind friend

I am delighted to know that we shall not have the advantage of your citizenship tomorrow at Spilton. I had been looking forward to having the views of your work there from your own lips until I received your kind letter on Saturday. No one can hold his own better than you and had there been a discussion you would

BLANDFORD

I am sure I am the best of it. Mr Prosser the Smith who is staying here, is very good of Mr Williams's opinion next to Mr Malcomb from what I hear of him he will be right man in the right place, not extreme either way.

I have got to the two platforms at Coombe ditch and just commencing the ditch paper work extending into beyond my boundary I have asked Mr Thacker the surveyor to let me complete the search. which I have no doubt he will justify.

How the Priests are laboring w/ the Catholics & their efforts to undermine the Church with they have sleazy themselves to maintain.
They are all tarred with the same brush - that a very black one - I am afraid we shall be beaten, but never say die.

I remain
Ever your affectionate
W. Samuel - Meydell

I write to congratulate you on the late's party result of your last dinner day - 9th.
