

case I very strongly
desire the matter to be settled one way or the other, and should feel it kind if you
will write to me
with your decision.

I am, dear Sir,
Faithfully yours,

CORNWALL.

13th October 1898.

Dear Sir,

With reference to the exchange proposed between Mr. Wise and myself, I should feel
greatly obliged to you
if you will kindly say whether you will consent

to it, and dispense
with my proposed visit to you. I could not get away from here now, and at the same time I am bound to say that I
rather fear the expense.

A perusal of
my former letters to
you will, I am sure,
assure you of my
moderation in things
pertaining to the
externals of public worship. In any
