Dear Father

I went yesterday
to the offices of the Liberal Union Association Although they were very civil etc they happened to have no work - as I feared; nor is there any immediate prospect of their finding me
any. I have left my address in case any thing should turn up.

This is a little disheartening.
I have however succeeded in interesting a few men like Francis Buxton in me
and I may drop into something later.
It is as well to persevere, for when one
least expects it, there is often an opening.
There is also a prospect of being able to float the Roumania

Syndicate, as Gluca
has written a favourable report.

I propose to go back to Ruelmore as soon as I have had an interview with a man from Scotland, who comes up next week.

I hope the house
will be habitable.
My mother seems better in herself, but is not allowed to walk much for a few
