

articulated plan appear still unexplained. She sends me what appears to be a calce--olous cast of a portion of a red deer's horn from a kitchen midden. I can't make it out to be the horn itself, but I don't hear of any discoveries of note.
I am sure your visit and Holmes' will have done much good, and hope you will be able to repeat it. Believe me Faithfully yours,
O. Lepray

Lepray (Gentl)

(L246)

PENQUITE,
PAR STATION,
CORNWALL.

September 18. 1886

My dear Pitt Rivers

I hope that this will find you still at Carlstad and en-joying as fine an Autumn as we are. The mysterious ways of Austria must make it very interesting to meet us one often does at foreign Watering places, people able to talk of public affairs with with some knowledge and ear--ness. She seems to be 'letting' I dare not wait upon

'I would': dominated by Russia and Germany, but eager to share the spoil of Turkey with-out burning her fingers. and I think 'the sick man' is very near his last gasp. It is curious that a book I have lately read 'Light for the latter days', brings out on principles of interpreta-tion in which I have much confidence the years 1887 and 1889 as of critical importance in reference to the Ottoman Empire I heard to day from my daughter -in that the Brickmakers are beginning to cut away the surface of the field in which you saw those curious ditches and that she will watch them closely. Your sections are I think rather too square or rectangular, but this is a trifle the use of the things and the Explanation of their regular