

(2529)

Tucking-
mill
Tisbury

Sir

Hearing you take old-fashioned things for curiosity. I beg to offer to you an old arrow head that was used before men knew the use of iron and
also an old silver
tinder-box which was used before matches were invented, and
several old coins one
of them being

Queen Elizabeth's
sixpences but we cannot tell you the names of the other coins, some of them are two or three hundred years old.

If you think of buying it will you please let us know by return of post. My ^{father} has had it in his possession over twenty years and we should be pleased to sell it

Y^{rs} Faithfully
William Lloyd
To Sir
General Pitt Rivers