My dear Sir

In case you
have not seen it,
I venture to send
you an article written
by me in the Mediator on the learned friends. The article was written partly to show people who had not yet heard

of it how much
had been done here, & still more to induce others to follow your example. I trust

you will pardon the liberty I take in writing this, but I feel even at the
risk of intruding,
that I should like
to thank you somewhat more personally than in the article, for the
