

WARWICK HALL
WORTHING

L331

July 4. 1887.

Dear Sir,

I am sorry to say that bad times and heavy expenses have compelled me to assign every thing I possess to my creditors.
If I can raise £300 and by the kindness of friends I have already £250 of that sum, I shall be able to buy in my furniture, and so

WARREN HALL

on with my pupils in a smaller house - I venture to ask you, as a former client, if you can assist me - whatever you kindly send me
I will repay when more prosperous times come.
You can imagine
that nothing but the

direst necessity compels me to ask the favour.

I am
yours faithfully
George Peppitt
