My dear General

I hope you will give all your votes (20)
to Mr G. A. George, who is candidate for the vacant post of Mr Surgeon at the Hospital: I should not ask unless confident he is the best man in the field —
Yours very truly
A. Manuel

Dorchester,

16th August, 1887.

Sir,

I beg to offer myself as a Candidate for the office of Surgeon to the Dorset County Hospital, now vacant through the resignation of Mr. Alfred Emson, and to request the honour of your vote and interest on my behalf at the ensuing Election.

I have been in practice in Dorchester for the last 9 years, and holding the appointments of Medical Officer to the Workhouse, the Dorchester district of the Dorchester Union, and a large club of Oddfellows, I am naturally desirous of being able to continue the charge of my patients when it is found expedient for them to become in-patients at the Hospital.

The accompanying Testimonials which I received, amongst many others, a few years since, when a Candidate for another appointment will, I trust, be a sufficient guarantee of my fitness for the position which I request your kind assistance to enable me to obtain.

I have the honour to remain,

Your obedient servant,

G. ALDRIDGE GEORGE,

L.R.C.P., London,

M.R.C.S., England,

(1st M.B., London University.)

Sharpening Scholar and Gold Medallist in University College, London.

I have much pleasure in stating that MR. G. A. GEORGE has been known to me as a very distinguished Pupil of University College and Hospital, where he passed through a brilliant career.

MR. G. A. GEORGE is in every respect most highly qualified for any Medical or Surgical appointment he may seek in Dorchester.

JOHN ERIC ERICHSON, F.R.S.,
Surgeon Extraordinary to the Queen.

It is with much pleasure that I state that I knew MR. ALDRIDGE GEORGE during the whole period of his studentship in University College, and University College Hospital, in both of which Institutions I watched his distinguished and, indeed, brilliant career, with great interest and admiration.

He is, in my opinion, most eminently fitted for the post he is now seeking to obtain, and I am sure that he will perform the duties of his office with discrimination, ability, conscientious care, fidelity, and zeal.

J. RUSSELL REYNOLDS,
Physician in ordinary to Her Majesty's Household.
Late Professor of Medicine University College.

To the Board of Guardians of the Dorchester Union.

Weymouth, February 21st, 1880.

GENTLEMEN,

I understand that MR. GEORGE ALDRIDGE GEORGE is a Candidate for the Medical Offices now vacant in your Union.

MR. GEORGE'S professional qualifications are of such high order, that I beg to recommend him to your favourable consideration.

He studied at University College, London, for the unusually long period of six years, obtaining a Scholarship, a Gold Medal, and other distinctions.

Besides the examinations for the Licenses of the Royal College of Physicians and of Surgeon, he has passed three examinations at the University of London, the severity of which are well known.

MR. GEORGE has thus shewn especial powers of labour and ability; and should you elect him to the post he now seeks, you will secure the services of a highly educated Medical Officer, who I trust will fully justify the confidence you place in him, by a faithful and efficient discharge of his important duties.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your obedient Servant,

WM. VAWDREY LUSH, M.D., M.R.C.P.,
Physician to the Dorset County Hospital.
