Sir.

I see it is reported that you are coming to inspect the excavations around the old Castle of Mers.

If you can then spare time to come on here I should like to show you a large heap of ancient rubbish situated on the summit of one of our hills from which I have prised up many interesting objects which convince me that there was a considerable population situated there for a long period -

Could this Barber of Mers can show you the spot & tell you the character of the mound, which I first showed him -

I am Sir

Very truly Yours

W. de Winton
