A small stone

window has been found by the men who are employed in taking down two houses in Abbey Street.
It is cut out of one stone about two feet by one foot three inches. the tracery is well cut & is ⁱⁿ good preservation -

The old materials of these houses belong to Messrs Randall & the Builders who are employed in rebuilding the Chapel here - they intended to take the windows to Dorchester and present it to Mr Munk or Mrs Gorell, but when I told them you were interested in such things they later once said it would give them much pleasure to hand it over to you - Will you kindly let me know whether I shall accept the window on your behalf?

Wishing you & yours every happiness during the coming Year - Believe me
Yours faithfully
Henry D'Arcy
