Museum a few years ago and which I had the pleasure of hearing, and a copy of which I have afterwards printed was able to obtain for me I should be glad to make you this additional handsome present.

I congratulate you on the capital facsimile & general handsome effect of the reprint of Chapin's "Anecdotes," that Elliot Stock has published for you. I shall have much pleasure in comparing it with my two earlier editions.

Again thanking you, believe me

My dear Sir

I am sure I am extremely obliged to you for the very courteous and handsome manner in which you have accepted of my request for a copy of your reprint of the "Anecdotes of Cranborne Chase."

I did not for one moment expect that my application would have resulted in such a further valuable acquisition to my local library as a copy of your "Excavations in Cranborne Chase".

I had before noticed this in the Museum Library at Dorchester, and a closer inspection of the volume you had now sent and confirms the impression I had then formed that it is a most valuable and valuable addition to our county antiquities -

I only hope that my supposition that your other works had not been entirely lost to the public by which I alleged were your papers of a fugitive nature, such as your address at the
