

Ans.
Ash Mills,
Hemel Hempstead.

1687

Aug. 29 1891

My dear Pitt-Rivers

I do not know
any scythe-blades like yours cut - It is more curved than usual
and the arrangement for securing it
to the snath seems different from that of any that I remember
It is altogether much smaller in its proportions than those of Roman date found at Great Chesterford (Arch. Journ. XIII. 10)

but I see no reason why it should not be Roman
- British - Please thank Mrs Pitt Rivers for her kind note - I am at present kept in by a lame knee but I hope
shortly to be sound again
If I lose my lameness could it suit you if I came for a night or two at Rushmore about Sept 23rd?

With kind regards

Your most truly
John Lubbock