Tarrant Monckton Vicarage, Blandford.

5th Sept 1891

Dear Sir

I write to thank you very sincerely for your kind response to my letter. I am greatly obliged for the book which you have also sent; it is most interesting, and one which I shall much value. The ancient map which forms the frontispiece gives me a clearer idea of the Chase than I had before, while the description and plates explaining the location of King John's house are also full of interest to me. I see that I was quite out of it in my conjecture as to the derivation of Larmer; your theory is far more probable. I shall be very glad indeed to see the rules of the Chase hounds, for the sports of former days are one of my favourite subjects; I shall therefore hope to avail myself soon of your kind offer to let me see them.

With many thanks

I remain

Yours very truly
