Dear General Pitt Rivers

I have looked at the figures of daggers &c. in my little book & see that the spear-daggers cut requires correction. Will March 5. My brother-in-law Alfred Harris is one of them up for election, and I am sure you would vote for him if you knew him

Yours very truly
Edward B. Tylor

You send me a sketch of the line of development as it seems to you to have come about. You will find in Wilkinson the cut (perhaps from Rosellini as most are) of soldiers with spears & daggers of similar form of blade. Also, I should be much obliged if you would make an ideal line of development of the sabre, for I do not think I quite understand your view. It will be some time before I can do anything as to a new edition, but I should like to get the evidence straight.

Will you take the trouble to go to the Athenaeum Club on Monday next
