GLOUCESTER.

May 9, 1892.

Dear Sir,

A Meeting will be held at the house of Mr. Wilfred Critchley, C.B., Cirencester on Monday next, May 16th at 2.30 P.M. for the purpose of forming a Local Committee to arrange for the Joint Meeting of our two Societies

On July 12, 13 & 14. I feel sure that Mr. Critchell will be delighted to see you if you can conveniently come.

Someone the form of notice suggested by Col. Forbes which I was afraid I omitted from my last letter to you. The Tourist season is now commencing: & it will be well to take some steps to prevent further damage to the Key Dairy Turbines.

I will order the iron chairs which are necessary to be done, on hearing from you. I trust you are much better than you were in the winter.

Believe me

Yours very truly

William Barclay.
